PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume I will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, SEPT. 23, 1833.

☞On Saturday evening, the Steam Boat Statesman departed for Louisville. On Sunday, the Junius, for St. Louis; and, this day, the Gazelle, Juniata, and Chippewa.

This rise of water has created quite a bustle in our streets, and along our wharf. The boats, mentioned above, took with them upwards of three hundred tons of merchandise and Pittsburgh manufactures.

THE JUNCTION CANAL.—A friend has politely handed us a letter, which he had just received, from General McCoy, dated Warren, Ohio, Sept. 20th, and permitted us to make use of it, if we thought it desirable to do so.—Upon reading it, we were fully satisfied that its publication would be highly interesting to our readers. It is true that the letter contains no single expression of preference of the Mahoning rout, over others which have been mentioned; but, still, it is interesting, because it gives us a decided opinion that this rout is feasible, at a moderate expense, and that it will have an abundant supply of water at seasons of the greatest drought.—The following is an extract from this letter:

"Mr. Clarke and myself are thus far on our way to Conneaut Lake, in Pennsylvania.—From Newcastle, at the head of the Beaver Division, we proceeded along the waters of the Mahoning to Youngstown, in Ohio, and from there to Ravenna, where I had the pleasure of meeting with your friend, Mr. Sloan.

Yesterday, Mr. Clarke, Mr. Sloan, and a gentleman residing in Ravenna, of the name of Day, and myself went in a carriage to Akron, on the Ohio Canal. On our way thither, and also on our return, Messrs. Sloan and Day took much pains in pointing out to us the proposed rout for the connection; and, from personal observation, as well as from surveys and reports submitted to us by Mr. Sloan, we do not entertain a single doubt as to the feasibility of connecting the Beaver Division with the Ohio Canal, at Akron.

The expense of constructing the work, necessary to form the connection, will not, in our opinion, amount to as much as it has taken to construct any portion of the Canals in Pennsylvania, of the same length.

The summit level lies south of Ravenna, about half a mile—it can be supplied with water from four several lakes, that are contiguous to it—also, by feeders from Breakneck Creek and the Cuyahoga River.—These sources, I am warranted in saying, will be sufficient to supply the feeders and Canal in seasons of the greatest drought.

To divert the trade from the New York, into the Pennsylvania Canal, is an object of vital importance.—Pittsburgh and Philadelphia are deeply and peculiarly interested in the matter; and it behooves the business men of those cities to bestir themselves in effecting an object so essential to their future mercantile and manufacturing prosperity."

From Poulson's American Daily Advertiser.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

The ship Splendid, Captain Brition, from Liverpool, which sailed on the 14th August, and the ship Tamerlane, Captain Printer, from Havre, which sailed on the same day, arrived at N. York on Tuesday last.

The consideration of the Bank Charter Bill has again been resumed by the House of Commons, and some important alterations and amendments have been made to it; that most deserving attention is the exemption from the usury laws, the discounting of bills and notes of three months date and less. In the course of the discussion, one of the members, Sir J. Wrottesley, urged strongly the necessity and utility of making the currency of England of an entire decimal character, similar to that of the United States.

The accounts from Portugal state that every thing indicated that the Government of Donna Maria will soon be settled on a permanent basis. Gen. Molellos, who had lately been despatched from Lisbon with 3,000 men to oppose the advance of the Queen's army into Alentejo, had joined the liberal party.—The Duke of Terceira had received orders to march to Lisbon with a force of 10,000 men for the north, when it was believed he would be joined by the major part of the Royalist party, still continuing before Oporto; the besieged were not apprehensive of any further attack being made. Gen. Bourmont continued to suffer from the effects of a wound which he received during his assault on the 25th July, on the city, and Don Miguel was supposed to be at Brags, but no direct information of his present quarters has been received.

We extract from our last London dates the following summary of the news from the continent of Europe:

"The principal portion of the Paris and German papers is occupied with the disturbances that have broken out in Switzerland, and which are, by this time, we trust, appeased. For the origin, nature, and progress of these unhappy events, we refer our readers to the extracts from the Journals, to be found in another place, observing that although there is no positive evidence on which to charge the neighboring great Continental States with fomenting the disputes that have during the last two years kept the Swiss cantons in a ferment, the obvious policy of Austria and Prussia—the foresight evinced in the precautionary military measures they adopted, and the position which they have in consequence actually assumed, furnish plausible grounds for the belief, which we are assured universally prevails in Paris, that the Cabinets of Vienna and Berlin were not strangers to the plot which has just now exploded in Switzerland. The defeat of the insurgents, as they must be termed, will, however, have obviated the Austrian, Prussian, or Bavarian interference.

"The principal article of news from Germany, to be found in the papers before us, consists of a statement that the Austrians were concentrating their forces at Feldkirch, within half a league of the frontiers of the Grisons. A Bavarian corps of observation is being formed near Lindau, three leagues distant from the (Swiss) Canton of Gall. The Duchess of Berry, it was said, was about proceeding to Prague. The Acrhduchess Sophia was confined of a Prince on the 20th ult. The death of the Duke Alexander of Wurtemburg (uncle of the king) has been formally announced to the French Government.

Our Madrid letters contain no news of importance from Portugal with which we were not previously acquainted. Several Cabinet Councils had been held in Madrid to consider the course proper to be adopted in the new aspect of affairs in Portugal. It was resolved (one of our Correspondents states) that should Don Miguel present himself on the Spanish frontier, he should be refused permission to enter.

This, however, was supposed to imply only, that he should be compelled to perform quarantine, but it was clearly understood that no military aid whatever could be afforded him.

King Ferdinand was said to be much better.—His Majesty received in a private audience, on the 31st ult., the Ambassadors of France and England, who delivered to him letters from their respective Sovereigns.—Courier & Enquirer.

Seldom or never has the price of cotton goods risen so much as during the last two months.—The rise is from 15 to 25 per cent. while that on yarn is from 20 to 30 per cent. The reaction is not expected to take place till after the shipments of yarn for the ports of the Baltic have closed.—Then very probably prices will revert to about their former level.—Glasgow Chronicle.

GREAT FIRE AT DUBLIN.

DUBLIN, August 10.—Last night, about 12½ o'clock, the great bonded sugar and spirit stores of our Custom House were discovered to be on fire. About 3,000 hhds. of sugar, about 1,000 puncheons of spirits of various kinds were stored here, together with wine and oil to a considerable amount. All the fire engines in the city were speedily put in requisition, but without the least effect, for the fire raged with frightful violence, and all the goods that were not instantly withdrawn from its fury were totally consumed, notwithstanding all that the engines could do, though they had every facility of supplies of water from the docks and river that surrounded the store, which lay N. and S. in the shape of the Egyptian letter L in the midst.

The fine store, which cost 103,000*l.* in 1824 to erect, is now a perfect ruin. Its length from N. to S. is 498 feet, its breadth at the northern extremity is 111 feet, and at the southern side (along the quay) 292 feet; the breadth at the eastern end is 70 feet. It was three stories high, each floor supported by cast iron pillars, on which also the frame iron roof rested, but, on the floors giving way, the roof gradually fell in also. All the sugar and tallow stored there are consumed, and there are not 500 hhds. more of the former in the city at present. The principal part of the spirits are saved, one portion (the whiskey) by being dragged out and thrown into the new (George's) dock; the other (brandy and rum) being safe beneath the sugar store, in fire proof vaults. Those stores had been rented by the Messrs. Schovell, from the Excise Board, and they, of course, will be serious sufferers.

The merchants who owned and stored the goods, must, however, bear the loss of goods consumed; the Messrs. Schovell, "especially excepting casualty by fire," in their contract for affording safe storage for bonded goods. The damage is roughly estimated at 400,000*l.* Few thought of insuring, in consequence of the general reputation for safety enjoyed by the King's store. The wine and tobacco stores at the opposite side of George's dock are quite safe, being all stone, brick, and iron.—The weather was very calm, and no flakes or sparks were wafted beyond the immediate quays of the adjoining docks, consequently the shipping escaped every damage, as the sailors had full time to haul away into a distant dock, and into the river, where a full tide afforded every facility for removal that could be desired.

At one time the appearance of the surrounding quays was truly alarming; the liberated whiskey broke out in a fiery flood along the pavement, from whence tall columns of flame ascended in whirlwinds, higher than the stores. One burning stream crossed the Quay at North Wall, and descended into the river Liffey, which, at one time, presented a sheet of flame of half its breadth, adjoining the scene of conflagration. The coal vessels, which moor here in general, were, however, at the further side, and completely safe. The Lord Mayor, High Sheriff Lynar, and several officers of the garrison, with detachments of the 59th, 74th, and 90th regiments were actively engaged in giving every assistance that lay in their power. A troop of the Light dragoons and the City Horse Police also attended, and preserved order around the docks and quays, an extensive district; but, within the Custom House walls, some dozens of fellows got beastly drunk with a few buckets of whiskey, which they saved from the leaking casks, and afterwards drank raw from tea cups and saucers, till they were obliged to be carried off dead drunk—perhaps dead! One infantry sentinel, who drank off a cup full, fell prostrate on the instant, to rise no more! Several poor hard working fellows were pulled out of the store in a stifled, senseless state, before the falling of the last portion of the roof at the eastern end, where the work of destruction terminated.

The gates were then closed, and the owners of the saved spirit casks applied themselves successfully to hoist them up from the dock into which they had been plunged. Many were staved in their descent by striking on those gone before, and the dock presents a surface of wreck.

The High Sheriff, Capt. Lynar, early in the night, proposed to cut off the communication between the burning and the unburnt goods, by battering down the midst with cannon, but his advice was not followed up in time. Two cannons arrived at 6 o'clock, when all the mischief was done, and were sent back again.

At a meeting of the Grocers, it was resolved to raise the price of Sugar 1d. per lb.

Another account states that the property destroyed was of the value of £400,000 to £500,000, of which about £300,000 belonged to the merchants of Dublin. Among the articles destroyed, were 5,000 casks and hogsheads of sugar, 300 puncheons rum, and 300 casks tallow.

From London Papers to the 13th August, received at New York.

The state of Ireland continues to present a happy contrast to its condition six months ago. That country is in fact so tranquil that the Lord Lieutenant is said to have declared that, in case of necessity, he should not be afraid to dispense with a considerable portion of the troops there—if, as was a short time since apprehended, there might be a necessity for a force for Portugal.

The determination shown by the government on the one hand to maintain the authority of the law, and on the other to afford relief to the people, has produced this result—it has taken away the food and the stimulus of agitation.

The defeat of Bourmont before Oporto was much more disastrous than was at first supposed. Spain shows no disposition to support Don Miguel. The London Courier says: "No fresh attack has been made at Oporto up to the 2d instant; but a firing was still kept on the boats as they landed stores for the supply of the Queen's forces. The official communication of Marshal Bourmont of the attack of the 26th on Oporto, and the report of Baron Clouet, the Commander in Chief, on that occasion, contain nothing new; but they are interesting as the official documents of military men."

The London Times, of the 13th, remarks—We believe that no copy of the Treaty between Russia and the Porte has reached this country, but the information received as to its stipulations confirms the statements we have heretofore given of its contents. The effect of it must be, we trust, to draw still closer, if possible, and render permanent, the friendly relations between France and England, and we hope ultimately to strengthen the alliance of all the powers in the West of Europe.

Caledonian Dairy.—Not far from the seaport, Leith, a National Dairy was established, [capital £250,000] such as the world never saw, and may never see again, which threatened to carry every thing before it, and break for miles and miles around the poor milk man and milk woman's bread. A palace was built for the accommodation of cows, attached to which were a spire and clock, much more befitting a church than a byre. And there the lowers stood in fair affray—certainly little, individually, in green fields, but great, collectively, in byre parlors—and formed, for a time, the leading lions of modern Athens. The forlorn widow, whose orphan goes to school in winter, and in summer, tends her cow by the way side; boys seated on donkeys with a couple of barrels rattling at their sides; bonny lasses with pitchers, calling at front doors and climbing stairs, that tea or coffee may be rendered palatable morning and evening—seemed destined to become a doomed race. The Caledonian Dairy Company! why, there was a magic in the very sound; and splendor in the idea of cisterns as capacious as a plunge bath; in the depot of the contents of hundreds of udders, churns, like brewer's vats, turned round as rapidly as a hand organ, and Irishmen quarrying butter, and conveying it to market at the moderate rate of a ton or two at a time. A splendid spring generally leads to a bountiful harvest; and on this principle curiosity inquires, what has become of the Caledonian Dairy and its promised dividends? Let the daws who build their nests in it, and the subscribers who lost their money, answer the question.—Dumfries Courier.

Ancient Architecture.—On the island of Elephanta, in the Gulf of Bombay, composed of two long hills, with a narrow valley between them, a narrow path leads to the grand entrance of an immense excavated temple, whose huge massy columns seem to give support to the whole mountain rising above it. The entrance into this temple, which is entirely hewn out of the rock, is through a spacious front, supported by two pillars and two pilasters, forming three openings, under thick and steep rock, overhung with brush wood and wild shrubs. The long ranges of columns which appear in perspective on every side of its interior; the flat and solid roof, which seems to be prevented from falling, only by these massy pillars, whose capitols are pressed down and flattened, as if by the superincumbent weight; the gigantic stone figures ranged along the wall, hewn like the temple itself, out of the living rock, exhibit an appearance of indescribable grandeur and sublimity. The whole excavation consists of three principal parts,—the great temple in the centre, and two smaller chapels, one on each side of it. These do not come forward to a straight line with the front of the chief temple, and are approached by two narrow passes in the hill on each side of the grand entrance from it.—Each of these passes conducts to a distinct front of the grand excavation, exactly like the principal front,—and all three fronts are ornamented with huge pillars and pilasters. The grand entrance faces to the north—the sides to the east and west. The roof is supported by twenty six pillars and sixteen pilasters, and the whole excavation is about 133 feet square."

A new expedition to Liberia is in preparation at New York, under the direction of the Colonization Society of that city. The ship Jupiter has been purchased by a benevolent individual, and offered to the Society at a very low rate, to take out emigrants, and fifteen are entered upon the list to embark from that city. The residue of the number required are to be taken at this city or Norfolk.

The particular occasion for chartering the vessel at this time, arrises from the situation of a number of applicants to the Society, between twenty and thirty in number, who were manumitted by the will of a Virginia gentleman on condition of their emigration to Liberia. By the law of Virginia, manumitted slaves return to slavery unless removed from the State within a given time. By the double operation of the conditions of the bequest, and of the State laws, it becomes necessary that immediate measures for conveying them to the Colony should be provided—and this can be done most efficiently by uniting them with a general emigrating expedition. The funds of the Parent Society are exhausted in consequence of the drain upon them by the unusual number of emigrants sent out during the last year, and extraordinary exertions are called for to provide the means for the present purpose. Such exertions are in progress in N. York, and it is to be hoped will be successful.—Balt. Amer.

The invention, applying the lithographic art to purposes of letter press printing of which some mention was made in this paper a few days since, promises to be extensively useful. All that is necessary, in order to have a perfect fac simile reprint in this country of any work publishing in Europe, is to procure from the publisher a copy of each impression on transfer paper, (such as lithographers use) which, on being received here, can be transferred to stone and sent to press, without scarcely any expense. It takes, we understand, about three hours to transfer the impression to the stone, from which seven hundred and fifty or a thousand copies can then be worked, each one a perfect fac simile of the foreign copy.

The fidelity of the copies is so perfect, we are informed, that the spirit and beauty of the exquisite line engravings in the London annuals and other works similarly embellished, are actually as well preserved in copies obtained by this process, as they are in those copies from the original plates which usually find their way to this country. The Penny Magazine is about to be reprinted in this city by the means of this lithographic discovery. The inventor, an English gentleman residing, in Boston, has taken out letters patent for his invention.—N. Y. Post.

THE AMERICAN "TROIS JOURS."

The Baltimoreans are, to day, celebrating the anniversary of the battle of North Point and bombardment of Fort McHenry, with great spirit, and in a splendid manner, as we infer from the programme of the celebration and proceedings of the associations as published.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the battles of Lake Champlain and Plattsburgh, and the day before, that of Lake Erie—so that we have our glorious Three Days to boast of as well as the French.

The battle of Lake Erie was fought Sept. 10, 1813, between the British squadron, commanded by Captain Barclay, and that of the U. States by Captain Perry, which, after an action of three hours and a half, terminated in the capture of the whole of the British force: the British had 41 killed, and 94 wounded; the Americans 27 killed, and 96 wounded.

On the 11th Sept., 1814, the Champlain British squadron, under the command of Commodore Downie, attacked the Americans, under the command of Commodore McDonough, in the harbor of Plattsburgh, and, after a sanguinary contest of two hours, were, except the gallies, all captured.—The Americans had 52 killed and 58 wounded; the British 84 killed and 110 wounded; among the former, Captain Downie.

Sir George Prevost, with 14,000 men, was, at the same time, repulsed in an assault upon the forts at Plattsburgh, by Gen. Macomb, with 1,500 regulars, and about 3,000 militia. The British retreated under cover of the night, leaving their sick and wounded to the mercy of their opponents, and destroying stores and provisions to a large amount.

On the 12th Sept. 1814, the British made their "demonstration" on Baltimore, after having taken Washington—they attacked Fort McHenry with five bomb ships and a number of frigates, and landed from a powerful fleet of men of war 5,000 troops at North Point, led by Gen. Ross, to attack the city. The British were repulsed by the Americans, chiefly militia, with a loss of 46 killed, including Gen. Ross, and 295 wounded—the Americans had 40 killed and 200 wounded.

The Court of Quarter Sessions commenced its duties on Monday last—Judges King, Sutherland, and Knight being present. The court was opened by an able charge to the Grand Jury from the President Judge. Having touched on the responsibility of jurors, he enlarged on their duties and their concomitant previleges. Among other matters, he referred to the unjust, as well as illegal practice of committing persons of a certain class as "disorderly;" and to the illegality of ransoming condemned vagrants on their paying costs, as if their paying costs was an atonement for a crime in the eye of the law, and a sufficient commutation of punishment.—*Nat. Old Ironsides.—Never did a ship bear a more appropriate name. Last week, a piece of timber was taken from the Frigate Constitution, now under repair in the Dry Dock, at the Navy Yard in Charleston which was only 9 feet long, 27 inches wide, 14 inches thick, and weighed 1460 pounds.—On breaking up this piece of timber, there was found in it 364lbs. of iron and 163lbs. of copper, making 527lbs. of metal—more than a third of its weight.

How to Revive Gilt Frames.—Beat up three ounces of white of eggs, with one ounce of chloride of potass or soda, and rub over the frame with a soft brush in this mixture. The gilding will immediately become bright and fresh.

A Young Maiden's Logic.—A Puritan preacher was one day struck with surprise on beholding a beautiful set of curls on the head of a lovely maid, a member of his class, whose hair had been usually very plain, "Ah! Eliza," said he, "you should not waste your precious time curling your hair; if God intended it to be curled, he would have curled it for you." "Indeed," said the witty maid, "I must differ from you. When I was an infant he curled it for me, but now that I am grown up, he thinks I am able to do so myself."

The corporate authority of Boston, has ordered an appropriation of $320,000, to defray city expenses for one year. The most important items are as follow: For the salaries of the instructers of the schools, $54,000; for repairs, fuel, and other school expenses $7,500; paving, repairing, and widening streets, $50,000; damages incurred by opening Tremont street, $13,000; salaries of city and county officers, $29,000; city watch, $15,000; lighting streets, $16,000; fire department, 8,000; engine houses, $3,000; reservoirs, $3,000; internal health department, $16,000; external health department, including the completion of the hospital at Rainsford Island, 3,000; overseers of the poor, $14,700; house of industry, $21,575; house of reformation, 6,500; county of Suffolk, including expenses of courts, &c., $31,000; interest on city debt, $41,000; reduction of debt, $15,000; completing house of correction at South Boston, $6,000; a new school house at the corner of M'Lean and Blossom street, $16,000.

Henry Clay.—The Lexington Intelligencer, of Tuesday, says—"We learn that the Hon. H. Clay and Lady contemplate leaving this city for the East, on Monday next. We also understand that they design previous to the commencement of the session of Congress, to visit some friends in Philadelphia; and will extend their journey as far as Boston. —Maysville Eagle, Sept. 19.

Formerly the terrors of the Spanish Inquisition so fettered the action of thought, that a departure from the national faith was seldom ever dreamed of even by the most influential. We now, however, observe that Charles Louis Bourbon, Infant of Spain, born in Madrid, in 1790, (a pretty antiquated infant,) has embraced the Protestant religion in Germany. In 1815 he became Duke of Lucca, and is the first Spanish Prince who ever embraced the Protestant faith.

Improved Tin Roof.—Messrs. Bard & Tilden, of Lynchburgh, Virginia, some time since invented a plan for covering buildings with tin; but their plan was defective in not sufficiently guarding against beating rains and snows, which would penetrate under the lower edge of the roof. A Mr. Heston has lately made an improvement in the plan, remedying this defect by dovetailing the tin, the separate parts clasping each other, and uniting so compactly as to guard against the entrance of rain and snow, even in the most violent storms. With this improvement, we think the plan a good one, considering the durability and present cheapness of the article. The inventor is about taking out a patent to secure its exclusive use.—New England Weekly Review.

According to the probable testimony, published in the National Intelligencer, it was not John Adams, of Massachusetts, but Thomas Johnson, of Maryland, who, in the Congress of 1775, nominated George Washington as Commander in Chief of the American forces. The nomination was seconded by Mr. Adams. It deserves to be honored as an inspiration.

Among the first appointments made by General Washington, when he was elected President of the United States, was that of Thomas Johnson to the office of Secretary of State, which proffer was declined by Mr. Johnson, in consequence, at that time, of the death of his wife, who left him with a family of young children.—*Nat. BY virtue of a writ of Levari Facias, issued out of the court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county, and to me directed, will be exposed to sale on Saturday, the 12th of October next, at 10 o'clock, at the Court House, in the city of Pittsburgh, the following described property, to wit:

The following contiguous lots, or pieces of ground, situate in Pitt township, Allegheny county, being part of out lot No. 8, in the manor of Pittsburgh: one of said Lots beginning on the south side of the great road, or extension of second Street, and thence running Beale's and Wade's lots, southwardly, down to the corner of Williams' and Redmond's lots, so as to include the spring house, thence by said Williams' and Redmond's lot westwardly, a parallel line with said road sixty feet, thence northwardly a parallel line with the first line to the road aforesaid, and thence by the same eastwardly, sixty feet, to the place of beginning; with the following piece attached to it, and being part of the same, viz: Being twelve feet wide, and extending from the said lot westwardly to a thirty feet street, which runs between Thomas Greenough's and Edward Encell's houses, adjoining Williams' and Redmond's line: the whole being subject to a yearly ground rent of seventy two dollars.

ALSO—One other of the said lots or pieces of ground, beginning at the south east corner of Thos. Greenough's spring house, and running westwardly by the south wall of the said spring house, and containing, in a straight line, one hundred and forty two feet or thereabouts, to a locust post, thence southwardly, in a direct line with the end of Thos. Greenough's dwelling house, fourteen feet, thence westwardly a parallel line with the said dwelling house about twenty seven feet to a street which runs between Greenough's and Encell's heirs, from the great road to the Monongahela river, thence along the east side of said street to the said river, thence up the said river to a post, where a line drawn in a range with the east wall of said spring house would strike said river, and thence by the said line northwardly to the place of beginning: subject to a yearly ground rent of forty dollars. On which are erected a Brewery, Malt House, and the necessary offices, shops, and dwelling houses; the same being generally known by the name of 'Phœnix Brewery, in Kensington,' Pittsburgh.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Samuel Dunn and Wm. O'Neil, at the suit of Henry Holdship, and to be sold by me,

WILLIAM LECKY,
Sheriff of Allegheny Co. Pa.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 2, 1833.—tf

DOCTOR J. B. ROSE,
DENTIST,
(LATE OF REGENT STREET, LONDON,)

RESPECTFULLY informs the inhabitants of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, that he has taken an office, No. 80 Third street, next door to Dr. Burrell, where he performs all operations on the Teeth and Gums, in a style not to be surpassed.

☞ Natural and Artificial Teeth set in the best manner, and at the most reasonable charges.—Also—Porcelain Teeth, from a single one to a whole set.

On the first appearance of Tarter or Scurvy, Teeth should always be cleansed, as the corrosion of the tarter will, in a short time, reach the roots of the Teeth, and they will eventually fall out—when, by attending to them in season, they might be restored, at a trifling expense, to their original beauty.

The operation of Plugging and Filing the Teeth, when decayed, is so truly important that it is impossible to recommend it too earnestly to the attention of the public. Thousands of the most useful Teeth, which otherwise, on account of their painfulness, would be sacrificed by extraction, may thus be preserved for many years. Doctor R., convinced that he can render benefits beyond all price to those who need his assistance, will wait upon families at their residence, if requested, and Teeth brought to a Pearl White at one sitting.

☞ As Dr. R. intends to remain in town but a short time, as early a call as convenient is advisable.

Dr. R. has for sale the British Antisceptic Dentrifice. This elegant Tooth Wash, with a very little use, eradicates the Scurvy in Gums, and prevents the accumulation of Tarter, which not only blackens, but loosens the Teeth, and accelerates their decay; removes the causes of offensive breath, preserves the healthiness of the Gums, and renders the Teeth beautifully white. Price 50 cents per Bottle.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
